

Leadership in Local Government: building globally competitive cities

Painting by Hermann Niebuhr entitled wim wenders goes to hillbrow

2-9 March 2012 Stellenbosch
An executive programme of the Graduate School of Development Policy and Practice

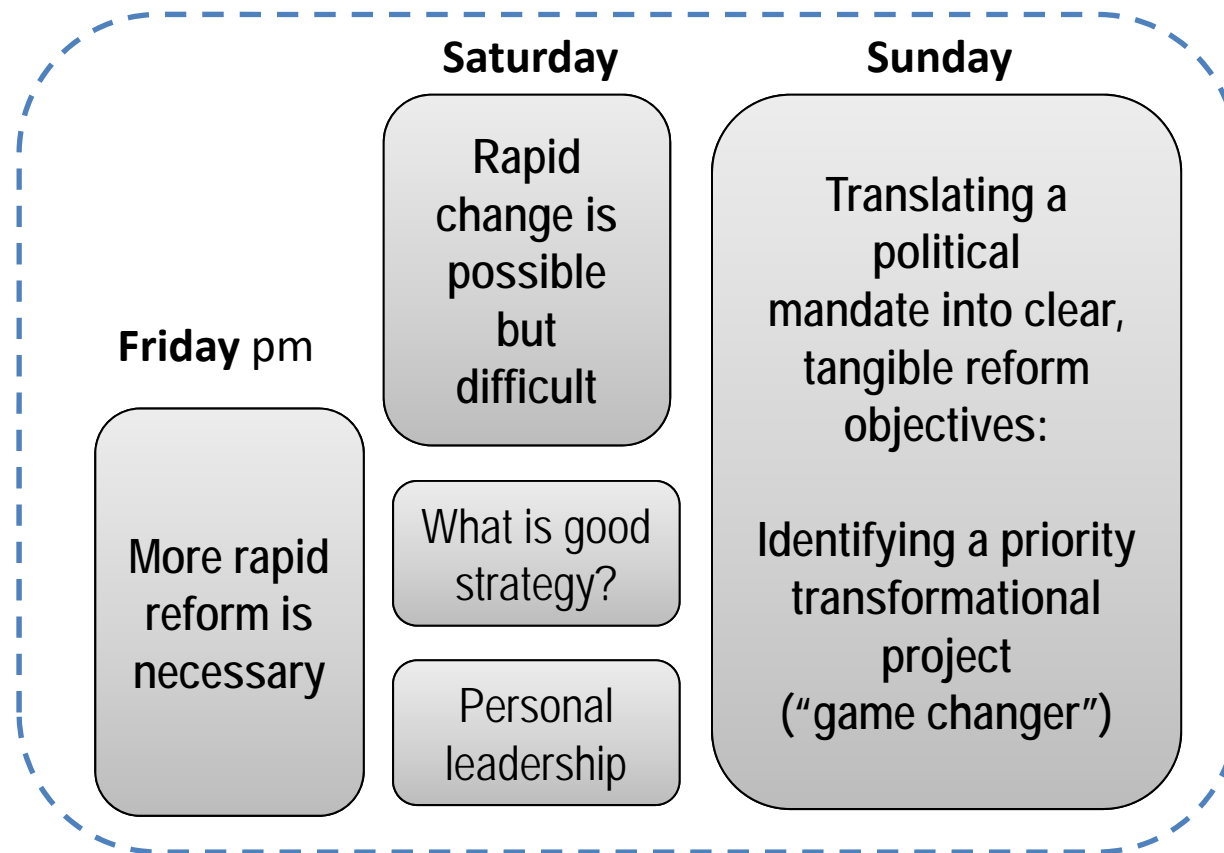

Closing first part of course

Joint Programme – Political Principals and Management Team

First time we have in a room the leaders of the cities accounting for 70% of SA's economy in this kind of format and for this purpose

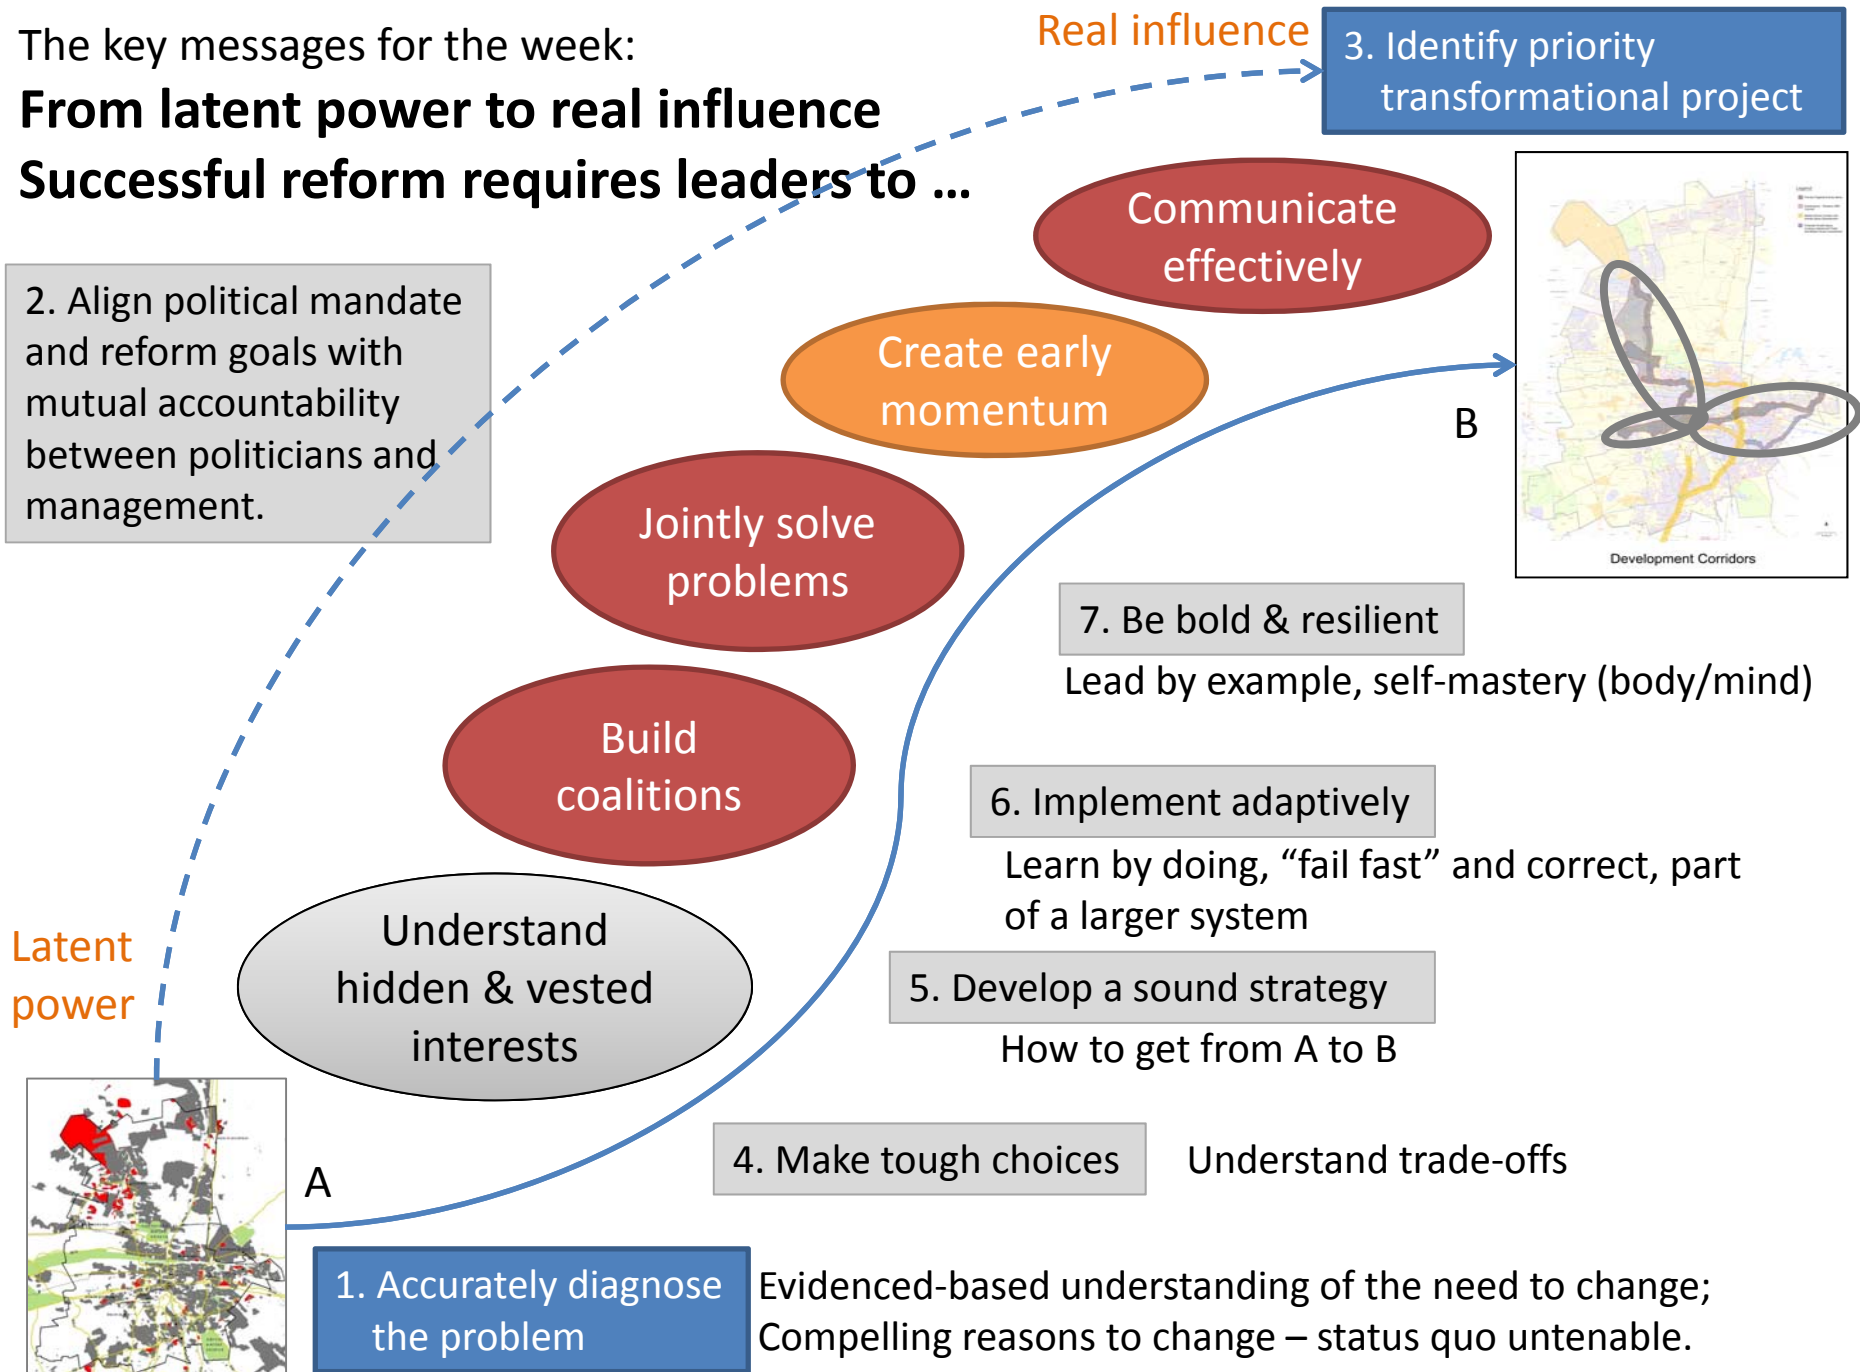

Objective for weekend: a sound platform for reform

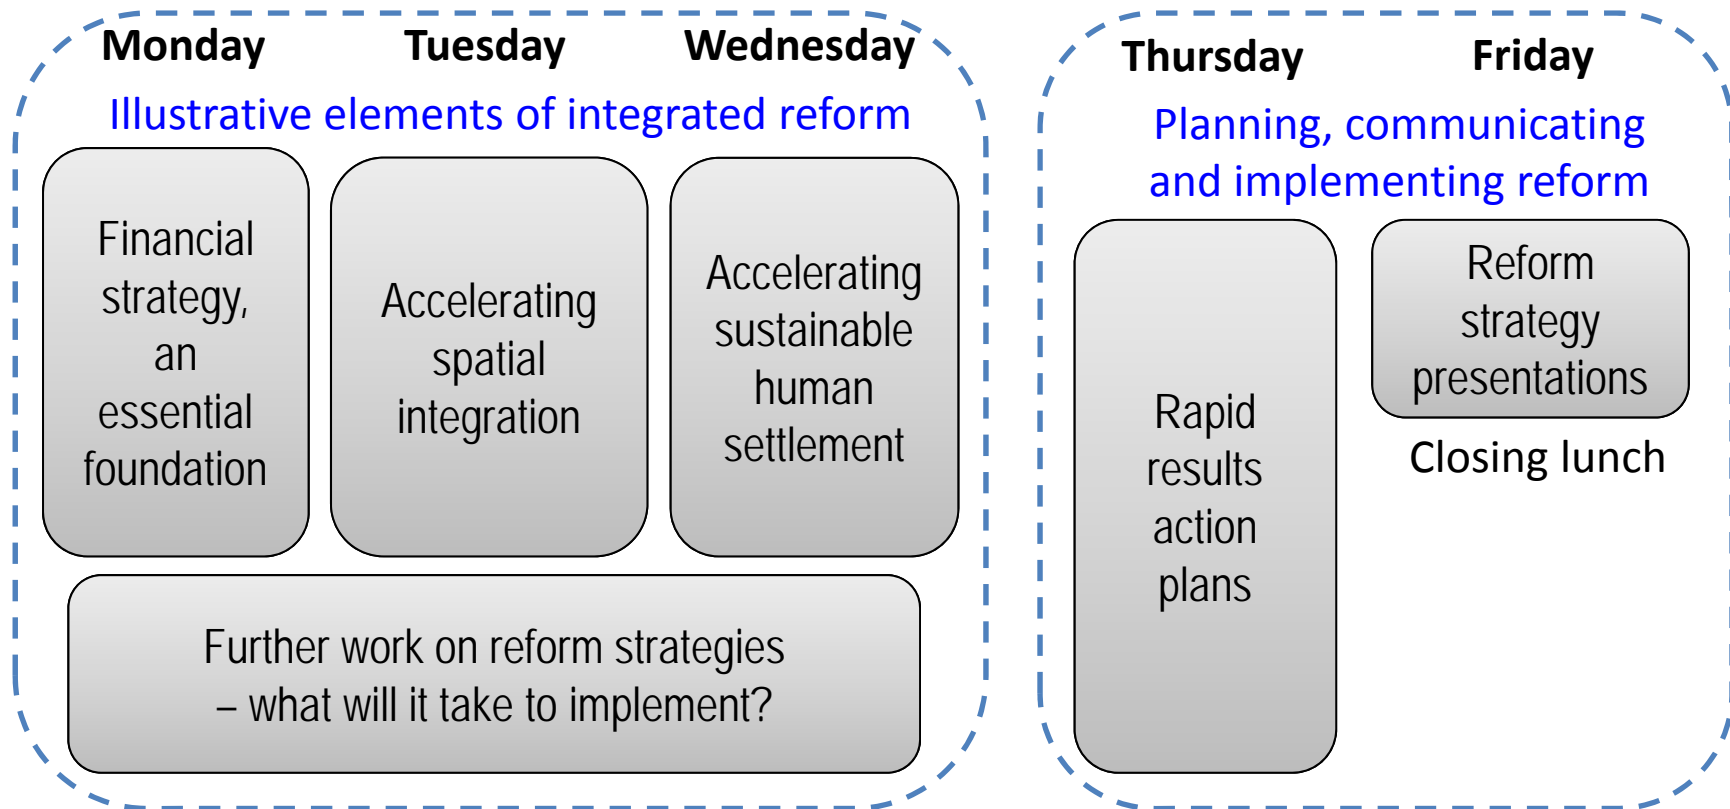

The key messages for the week:

From latent power to real influence

Successful reform requires leaders to ...

Objective for the coming week: What will it take to implement effectively?

Post course

- 30 day follow-up
- 100 day evaluation

Ongoing support for the first year

- Modes of support to be discussed

Building early momentum

3 minutes on
rapid results approach

Patrick Osewe, WBI

An aerial photograph of a dense urban area, likely a city center. The image shows a variety of high-rise buildings, some with distinctive architectural features like grid patterns or unique colors. In the foreground, there is a large, open green space with trees and a few parked cars. The sky is overcast with grey clouds. The text "Have we made magic?" is overlaid at the top of the image.

Have we made magic?

1. What was your most significant benefit?
2. Propose one thing to improve for next time.

Let the magic continue

Please join us for dinner with the Minister of Human Settlements @ Blaauwklippen @7pm

Leadership in Local Government: building globally competitive cities

Painting by Hermann Niebuhr entitled wim wenders goes to hillbrow

2-9 March 2012 Stellenbosch
An executive programme of the Graduate School of Development Policy and Practice